Leonard Claims Championship.

A fast wrestling match was pulled off at Evansville Wednesday night, April 1, between Young Landry of St. Johnsbury and Leonard of Barton, the former winning the last two falls and the match. Leonard secured the advantage by winning the first fall in 37 minutes but Landry came back and won the second and third in nine and 27 minutes respectively. This match left Leonard with two victories over Landry and the latter with two victories over Leonard. Both wrestlers agreed to wrestle for the lightweight championship of the state and it was decided to pull this important match off in Coventry on the following evening. With the title at stake both men were ready for a real match. The first fall went to Leonard in 39 minutes but Landry came back with his great strength and endurance and won the second fall in 27 minutes. After a short rest they again faced each other. Landry rushed at Leonard and was blocked cleverly. Leonard won this fall in eleven minutes and both men said after the match that they were satisfied with the way the Coventry boys supported the game and would give them their share of the sport. This leaves Leonard the lightweight championship of the state and he has no one at 130 pounds.

A COUNTY GET-TOGETHER

Road Commissioners, Selectmen and Others Guests of Newport Board of Trade and Hear Gates.

Yesterday was held the Orleans County Road Commissioners' meeting at Newport under the direction of State Commissioner Gates and County Commissioner Bates of Derby.

The forenoon session was devoted to explanations of the law by Mr. Gates, experience meetings by the town commissioners and a general discussion of road methods and problems.

At noon the Newport board of trade banqueted the attending commissioners, selectmen and a number of others whom they had invited. About 200 in all sat down to a fine "feed" after which Oscar C. Miller explained that the object of the get-together was for the better acquaintance by the representative men of the county and he believed such gatherings should be more common. He referred to the gathering at Newport about a year ago when the Orleans County Agricultural association was organized and called upon C. W. Richmond, secretary of that association, to say a few words about its progress.

Mr. Richmond explained very briefly what the association proposed to do and reported that where a year ago some 500 members belonged over 800 had now signed and he believed that with many cards being received almost daily, the number would soon be sufficient to warrant, with the backing the banks had promised and the business men would give, the hiring of a county agricultural adviser to come out to the ground. He said a meeting of the advisory board was planned for the near future and he believed it would see fit to go ahead.

Mr. Miller then introduced W. W. True of Newport, the Orleans county member of the Greater Vermont association and asked him to explain the benefits of county boards of trade or associations. Mr. True told of the work of the Greater Vermont association and the fine work of the county organizations in Bennington and Windham counties. He saw great benefits in organizations of this kind which lead to better acquaintance and cooperation. He advocated such an organization in Orleans county either independently or as an auxiliary to the county agricultural association and submitted the idea to the association that it appoint a committee for the purpose of enlarging upon the county development along lines other than agriculture.

Mr. Gates was then called upon and in introducing him, Mr. Miller, a prominent Democrat, said it was a shame for the Republican party to spoil so good a state road commissioner by putting him "down" into so small an office as governor.

Mr. Gates talked for more than an hour on road work, policy and progress, exhibiting many lantern slides of Vermont roads. He prefaced his road talk with commendatory remarks about the co-operative idea and said there was a great difference in the enthusiasm and interest shown in these meetings now and a few years ago. He made the statement that Orleans county voted a slightly greater percentage on its taxable property for road work than any other county in the state. He said we were making some good roads here and he wanted us to continue. "Property values are increased one dollar for every dollar put into roads," said Mr. Gates. "I can not prove this statement, but many men agree with me in this statement and I doubt whether there is a man here who will dispute that statement so far as Orleans county is concerned."

Mr. Gates said Orleans county had voted for state road work in eight years $54,000 and had received a like amount from the state. The amount of money voted by town and in addition had received from the state surplus $36,000 more. This surplus money is expended in making roads in spots where the town in which the road is located get little or no good from that particular piece of road but the traveling public demands good roads. He referred to the road built over the mountain between Lowell and Eden. Neither town derived much benefit from this bit of road but the traveling public wanted a good highway and the state took its surplus money and built a suitable road there.

members and two visitors were present. A paper was read by Mrs. Florence Pierce, "Evolution from Primitive Methods of Housekeeping to Modern Living," and a reading by Mrs. Winslow, "The House that Jill Built." A very dainty chafin dish lunch was served by the hostess and committee.

At the annual meeting of Keystone Chapter, No. 16, R. A. M. Monday evening, the following officers were elected and appointed and installed: R. P. Webster, H. P. L. B. Jones, K.; Wallace H. Gilpin, S.; Geo. Katen, treasurer; J. A. Pearson, secretary; F. A. Hunt, C. H.; L. M. Kinsley, P. S.; A. O. Austin, R. A.; C. W. A. Royston, 3d V.; W. P. Barrows, 2d V.; T. H. Card, 1st V.; W. A. Warner, chaplain; H. T. Seaver and F. D. Pierce, stewards; C. E. Hamblet, sentinel. The financial statement of the chapter showed the organization to be in good shape.

At the meeting of the Crystal Lake Grange Thursday evening the third and fourth degrees were conferred upon one candidate and two applicants were accepted. The program of the literary hour was as follows: Reading, Mrs. W. A. Royston, "The Fable of the Husband who Showed up and Did the Best He Could"; song by Mrs. Edgar Chase with a violin and piano accompaniment; a discussion on the subject, "Agricultural New England, Its Past History, Its Present Condition and Its Future Prospects," Mrs. Merton Wilcox, W. S. May, Fred May and F. H. Foster and a song by Ruth Gleason. Refreshments were then served which went to make the evening an enjoyable
